LETTER OF REFERENCE

We worked with the Textus Translation Agency during the Euro 2012 football tournament. The Russian language translator they assigned to the Fan Zone in Donetsk provided the highest level of service, and in a very professional and efficient way provided both written translations and interpretation.

Our work together involved translation services between our own Supervision Company, and a team of Ukrainian employees working in Donetsk. The scope of the translations required also included event terminology.

We are very pleased with the Textus Translation Agency, and so we can confidently recommend the company as a reliable translating agency that provides the highest quality of service.
